

Wollongong City Council Interpreter Service

Wollongong City Council Interpreter Service provides onsite face-to-face interpreting for public, community and private sector agencies for casework, client assessment, community consultations, conferences, group information sessions and public meetings. All interpreters are accredited by the National Accreditation Authority for Translators and Interpreters (NAATI).

The Service also provides on-site language support workers for languages for which there are no local NAATI accredited interpreters. In particular, this Service provides support for new and emerging communities.
